Andes Líderes is intended for the South American, Spanish and Iberian markets.

The leading mountain-development publication for the Spanish-speaking world, Andes Líderes presents a broad array of solutions for mountain development, winter or summer, both for mountain sports and for mining. Mining and ski resorts might at first seem to be totally different spheres of activity, but they have many things in common. Safety concerns, snow grooming, snow clearing, cable transport, protection for natural disasters, signage, training, risk prevention, etc, are some of the areas and business activities involved both in mines and in ski-resorts.
